Best Buy: Now's The Time To Buy the Xbox One Along with Microsoft's E3 announcement this week, Best Buy has started to begin selling the Xbox One at their stores across the country. We checked our local stores and saw that the Xbox One is generally $10 more expensive than the PS4, but some are selling for $100 less than that. Here's a look at the local pricing in major markets around the country... Rockville, MD We found the PS4 in the computer section for $399 while the Xbox One was on sale in the electronics section at $399, but the Xbox One was marked up to $50 for being part of a bundle with Call of Duty: Ghosts. San Jose, CA We found the PS4 at 3 outlets of 3 Best Buys for $399. When searching for the Xbox One, we found it at about

Insert videos into your desktop wallpaper to give your desktop some life. Create a new playlist from whatever clips you have on your computer, or have PUSH Video Wallpaper grab YouTube videos right into your desktop. What We Liked: Great interface, simple to use, really customizable. What We Didn't Like: This is a trial version, so it has a little resource cost. Final Verdict: Make your desktop into a video-centric hangout. 5 questions that can help you choose the right tablet for you TechRepublic Beside the occasional gaming addiction, tablets are becoming a useful part of our lives. It's easier to transfer documents across the network, or just read a book or two. But before you shell out for a tablet, you need to know what kind you want -- and what questions you should be asking yourself. In this article, we'll answer five questions that will help you decide. What do I want to do? There's not one universal tablet: they vary by what you'll actually use them for. A personal computer runs software: an app may turn into a monster game, while another might only be used to shop online, or read the newspaper. You need to know how you'll use your tablet before you buy it: a tablet that only has basic apps is generally a waste of money. TechRepublic The hardware: While a tablet can sometimes be a portable PC, it's generally a bad idea to use a tablet to do the same things you can do on a laptop. The operating system is optimized for touch screens, with limited USB ports, Ethernet, and built-in storage, so it's not the best fit for standard computing tasks. It's a good idea to choose a tablet that has ample memory space, so it can run a full-blown operating system like Windows or Android, and has good battery life. The software: You can't beat a tablet with software, which is why the software package that comes with the tablet is important. If you need a full PC experience, you'll want a tablet with Windows or Android. Apple has its own tablet OS, but most people won't use it, unless they have a high-powered e-reader. For casual use, like reading a book or watching a movie, most tablets use a lightweight OS, like WebOS or Android. The operating system limits the tablet in terms of storage space, memory, and connectivity. TechRepublic The options: Get what you need in one

Created by PUSH Video, the PUSH Video Wallpaper app is a simple yet powerful video background application that lets you add a looping video to your desktop. The app is at a free stage and makes it easy for you to try out different kinds of videos so that you can find the best one that blends well with the rest of your desktop. It can be downloaded directly from Apple's App Store for iOS and from Google Play Store for Android. Key Features:

- You can choose any video to be your wallpaper.
- Just select the video from a list of videos on your computer.
- The video playback can be sped up or slowed down.
- You can add more than one video at once.
- It is available for iOS and Android devices.
- It is a free app available on Google Play and Apple's App Store.

With PUSH Video Wallpaper, you can add your favorite videos to your desktop and have them play whenever you choose. The app lets you choose from a list of videos found in your computer. Just choose your favorite from a list of available videos and it will be placed on the bottom of your screen. You can even add different kinds of videos to your desktop. To do that, you can pick from the following options:

- Multiple Clips: You can add up to 10 different clips to your desktop. You can make them fade in and out or play in loops and have different titles for your wallpaper.
- Long Video: Longer videos are also supported. You can add videos that are more than 5 hours long. You can make them fade in and out, have different titles and play in loops.
- Free Video: You can add videos available for free on the internet. You can choose any video that's free for personal use only. You can add the videos to your desktop, have them play in loops and customize them as you wish.
- Free Short Video: If you have any free videos that are no more than 5 minutes in length, you can add them to your desktop and have them play in loops whenever you choose.
- Camera Roll: You can add any video that is stored on your smartphone or tablet camera. You can choose the video quality, resize it and have it play in a loop whenever you want.

Note: You can add any of the videos to your Desktop. You can either do that by adding them to your desktop directly, or by adding the URL of the video to your
